Fondation de la "Philadelphia Society"
for eradicating the miseries of the human race

an evening de la Philadelphische Gesellschaft, Mittwoch

25 (36-40) : "Ist die Mission der Menschlichkeit
... gegen ~~Klassen~~ hit an + recht der uns heilt, nicht nur gegen die Leiden."

"When we consider the obligations of benevolence, which are founded on the precept and example of the author of Christianity are not cancelled by the follies ~~and~~ or crimes of our fellow creatures, and when we reflect upon the miseries which penury, hunger, cold, unnecessary severity, unwholesome apartments, and guilt (the usual attendants of misery) involve with them; it becomes us to extend our compassion to that part of mankind who are the subject of these miseries.

By the aid of humanity, their undue and illegal sufferings may be prevented; the links which should bind the whole family of mankind together, under all circumstances be preserved  unbroken; and such degrees and mode of punishment may be discovered and suggested, as may, instead of counteracting habits of vice, become the means of restoring our fellow creatures to virtue and happiness."

"6 in N. K. Tebbel.
They were in prison
1937. p. 3.

Account of the Soc. of the Phil. Society for assisting Distressed Prisoners", but on the last page of the show: "une grande collection de documents (aliments) par missionnaires, et de charités envoyées par nos frères missionnaires: "Vieilles pour les missionnaires."
