Le Times, par le lord avant Du Keoghe, écrit :

" If we speak of democracy, we do not mean a democracy which maintains the right to vote but forgets the right to work and the right to live.

If we speak of freedom we do not mean a rugged individualism which excludes social organisation and economic planning.

If we speak of equality, we do not mean political equality nullified by social and economic inequality.

If we speak of reconstruction, we think less of maximum production (though this too will be required) than of equitable distribution."

It is true that the welfare state is a new concept

It is not a new concept of government, but it is a new concept of the state which is the right to work and the right to live.

If we speak of the state we are not speaking of a machine which is run by a few men, but of a machine which is run by the people.

If we speak of the state we are not speaking of a machine which is run by a few men, but of a machine which is run by the people.

If we speak of the state we are not speaking of a machine which is run by a few men, but of a machine which is run by the people.
