Brighton. November 9. 1859.

My dear Missions Guizot.

I hope Mr. de Montebello told you she had received the Missions copy. I have not heard from her since, but I sent it to the Duke of North by Mr. de Montebello.

We have come to they have a couple of months, the time being left enough there at Montebello at this time of year.

I find no one I know but

The Romanovs, who are here for 4 months, he has seen them & leg paralyzed.

They are much occupied externally by the state of affairs in Italy, leaving little time however at Florence with Mantua - but Italian affairs seem as far from a solution as ever. The public feeling here is against going into Congress, but it looks probable we shall do so.

We left V. at
at Richmond the former and is very tedious Seeing the
I. affairs
The Congress

It is a limited party.

I am sure you & I feel for all have O'Connell's history, the house of O'Connell's house, but it has been a series of misfortunes - one which has been of - according to one person, is so short a space of time.

She has lost too - know Lady Pitt is a very sensible woman, she has been in the house not long since, but has

Health had been much impaired lately.

Our dear Lady Granville is not of course, and cannot leave England shortly, she has business & family, &c.

I therefore the former cannot be entirely cured.

My dear friend are going to Paris soon. I hope to see them in June.

Believe me dear Madame Guizot Ever most truly yours.
