My dear Madame Guizot

Your letter reached me here, for which I thank you very much.

I do not know whether D. Robert Guizot keeps the time indicated for his in the last number of the Quarterly Review, tho' he wrote the one on Mr. de St. Paul's in the one before - he is certainly chosen.

Mr. Schiberg did not like his manners with Miss Colverton, but I really do not know why, & capturing that he wished some one of higher rank.

105 &

I think also D. Schiberg was displeased with something in a political matter D. M. had had done.

With regard to Sir H. Palmer, nobody here believed a word of the story which has been set up about him, It seems quite impossible & can be no so.

He is add therefore belief is easily given to any stories about him, I should suppose he is very well pleased in the Eastern question - too well

I please
I am certain

so much on

To please some people.

I am certainly nothing but a Jacobinism & think all that is taking place is Italy by disheartening and the most disheartening of all our conduct in the matter. I am hoping much good from the meeting at Wandsbeck, but without being joined by others I am sure Austria will not move.
 His misfortune is that she is obliged to have so many causes of weakness in themselves at this moment, & that there is much depends upon them.

The Giffells have just come to Rick's Park for the winter, I saw them today they left D. when on Wednesday.
He is a brilliant Jacobite - as I suppose he is, what a chance!

We still continue to have here very bad weather, however the harvest is pretty good & some total, in Scotland is much better than for two years past.

Lord Aberdeen is better known to come to London last week as the J. & was afraid of his passing the cold season in Scotland.

I hope certainly to go to Paris in January, and to have the pleasure of seeing you there.

I have just heard from the Office at Annals that the O. de Paris has broken his leg yesterday out hunting - his horse came away and threw him against a tree.
But it is only a simple fracture, Chas. Davis writes - My daughter looks with the Office at Annals to see the Chaffin, but they have left before the accident took place.
But I do not think from old accounts there is any Chaffin to be apprehended.

The CP. de Paris & his mother dined here last Wednesday, to meet the off. of Cambridge, She & Mr. May are living at Kew, and are a great addition to this neighbourhood - for we all like them very much.

The Livinge Ministers are now all absent from London, but Mr. Chazis & Vaffier have been occasionally.
Mr. de Blandebourg, whose name is known, Mr. Winkler

Mr. Lalle

Mr. Latham & Vachonoff. Tho' the letter is sent one for Mr. de Sturmon is always in London, tho' no one keeps any thing of him.

I am glad you like Sir H. Paul & Macaulay's Essay's which I sent.

I am going to send a brochure of Mr. de Falloux which I have long well examined, & heartily by Mr. Beranger of course you have seen it.

I hope dear Madame Guizot when you have time, you will write. You wish

Very much to hear from you, and all those sad officers that are taking place.

I believe the Love Letter

Most truly.
