London, May 18. 1861.
My dear Hermann Guizot.

I have written - before departing to tell you how kindly I wrote to you last month, in hopes of being able to give you some news which might be interesting.
But hardly any little has happened. Our party has been supporting the Govt since the commencement of the Session, with the exception of financial questions.
No doubt, there has been action by 17. - The Chamber having joined this force to the Gov^t. It seems rather an anomaly that Mr. Schumacher, who is so Conservative in all his ideas - should identify himself with the most advanced Liberals! He met him & Mr. Schumacher who is last night, at the Apperage he seemed to turn up well in good spirits. He is certainly a wonderful man.

I thank you very of me - and the

 in this country.

I thank you very much for thinking of me. and shall be most grateful for the 4 to 6 vols.
 of your memoirs.

Every one is here beginning to leave home for the winter. The holiday the holiday is not far off then. I want to see you very much.

which have led to a serious and financial embarrassment & therefore it is thought not improbable that Mr. Gladstone may have to go abroad his whole life.

He has the Duke of Bedford

& Co. - his fortune was small. I am very glad of it for all the same one must not regard as a politician. He likes him & his family personally very much.

I have seen the Dr of Hamilton today who has at last arrived, He has still a very bad attack of bronchitis, & the Dr. has ordered him not to go out for some days.

I have Mr. de Blahaut, has been sent here, & is going today to Paris. M. Jannet is also gone there.

All our friends are hurriedly preparing for home
I announced the thought of leaving to England

This summer:

The weather is so fine now & the scenery so short it would cost but very little trouble.

My friends my best remembrance to your believe me Dear friends I might not look

a little better.
