Knolly Hill. October 30. 1864.

My dear Monsieur Guizot.

I thank you very much for having kindly remembered me - in sending me your book. I have only just received it - it's having been retained by accident in Park Place, therefore I have not been able to read it yet. but I know that its sentiments on the Papal question very coincides with my own, and I am anxious for another in the Off. of Cambridge - for we have only speaking on this subject a few days since.

Mr. & Mrs. Henry are now gone to Brighton for a month, where I shall see them, but I go there on the 8th for ten days.

The books I bought are those I wrote to lay every thing that ever kind has been to you.

I wish to ask if you have already read O'Stanley's Life of Pitt. This very book I have & if you have not I thought of sending it with another English book or two I think you will like to read, then the one which is by an Oxford

Man Müller
of Langens
I have been last day's of my they want book to O'Stanley
writing these are some who has noticed with them
I think with me which is a great thought of by an Oxford Professor - Max Müller - "On the Science of Language".

I have been much occupied these last days by the departure of my daughter & her husband.

They went yesterday to Berlin.
Lord & Barbara had their coach & I have been giving him a supper there. Mr. Mykles has been returned to Miss? who has been after, & the Mosses have been staying
with them.
Sir J. P. Ashurst is a lot to the Lib'ry party - for he generally befriended their Measures. - but he has known a long time & regret his error.

I have no doubt - this is not the moment for any.

The state of affairs in America has very much depreciated the "Bright" party in public estimation.

I hope some American friend I have the pleasure of seeing you in Paris in January - & believe me ever truly yours.
