S. M. October 24. 1862.

My dear Madame Guizot.

I very much accept all my thanks for the letter you kindly wrote me.

It is so good & pleasant to me to hear from you and how long I have been so kind to have missed the copy of my dear David's letter.

Madame Guizot is very deeply impressed in my mind as it is in France.

I hope you will not entirely desert England, but that you will come and see your friends again.

He has had a week of the most stormy weather - On Sunday Mr. Lippman & P. (the) (the), left for Paris & had a very rough crossing.
He is the eldest of three - Mr. Lippman is still at Richmond, but will go to London in about a week; The second son, Frederick, and also the Mr. & Mrs. who has returned to Orleans house - I had several visitors. All the day was very bad - the Mr. Dickson the house which he visited, he is a gentle & liked very much here, also Mr. de are arrived - he is now hamborough.

I have not seen them yet. She is expecting every day to be confined.
The affairs of Prussia do not seem the promising; I hope the King will be firm. Her sister H.
Cecil has been the adviser of the Crown Prince & of Royal Highness absenting themselves for the present from Berlin. till the crisis is past. My daughter & her husband - the Princess - have been staying at Baden for a short time. They had been to drink Tea with the Queen of Prussia, who they said appeared very tranquil & silent. They had had a very agreeable dinner with the Grand Duke & Duchess of Baden.

The latter they think very charming.
