Waltham Hill. May 23. 1863.

My dear Monsieur Guizot.

Now I thank you for the French Edition of the Discours Speeches, you have kindly sent (and which has been so perfectly translated by Gene Bronghton) with the preface by yourself - and we all think does admirable justice to the qualities of the Commentaire & Discours, I had heard before, have and now I am most pleased with it.

Request that I was unable to see

Mr. & Mrs. Minant, which I would have done, but towards the close of their visit to London Mrs Minant was taken very ill in Belgium, where we had (on the 17th of last month)
the great affliction to lose -
We were sent to Brussels,
Should Mr. & Mrs. Minant return to London, I hope to have the pleasure of seeing them.
We have been staying here for some time past, but are going to London next Tuesday.

as Mr. & Mrs.
of the Commission on Thursday, as Chairman of Commission, & & it is difficult
these duties -
effs.

When I am in
I shall have the going forward
to write down
than I can do
The 17th

as far as I am concerned the of the Commission - which is - temporary on Thursday, and is also Chairman of the Royal Commission, which sits every day & it is difficult to reconcile these duties - even at this ^{short} distance off.

When I am in London perhaps I shall know more of what is going forward, & be able to write something more interesting than I can do at present.

The Weymouth are staying at Pembroke Lodge. He is not well & unable to leave it.

The solution of the Greek question seems as far off as ever - tho' Mr Russell tells us he has still hopes of the Peace of Denmark.

We are interested about the French Elections. Has M. Thiers or other opponents a good chance of success?

I will not fail to give you news to the Off. of Cambridge. He is going to Germany in July - & I believe Mr. Stowe is also going to Germany again in September. I believe he has heard Francis's friend.
Ever yours truly Alice P.
