Dear friend

Letter Creek
Aug 20. 1887

I have long wished to write to you, but my time has been occupied with the duties of that excursion from the Lake was with our the Bourgeois at when we passed a last week. Your position is a charity of your visit to them in 1874/75, when we met in Newbury, it was not one of our operations.

The Boilers are tolerably well with the exception of Cartman, the 2d girl, who was confined three weeks during our visit by a severe cough; they do not expect any more. I think she will lose more of her health & she will be of this morning & I think she will be the same, is afterwards I have promised to extend our travels beyond London & the London of Mr James Clark, very near the Queen's College in 22 my return. Charlotte & her make such a point that I cannot open the St. John's, happy but her husband's health is a sad one back - I was that & see how hot during it is said that long of atmospheric pressure Cartman is in London departed last Monday pleased to read of your his colleagues of the you finally met on the former labour. -

we have had a lot of punishment - the largest company of militaries which were opposed to the law
now managed the police force; it has been of the Catholic party a bill to prohibit to extend. I think with should have prohibition to be to be here for during the marriage ceremony it is said that he is not better, is hopes of ultimate recovery can be held forth - Lady Colborne is at Cambridge, she came here on Saturday last morning. - I was much pleas'd to read of Guillaumet's success at his oblation of the distinguished reception for firsty met on the heels of your former labors. -

You have had a long unsatisfactory session of parliament - the ministry are weak beyond compare; yet a change seems improbable; while every other contribution must be still heavier. Lord J. R. has managed the protest ground with the hope; it has ended in a violent aversion of the Catholic party in Ireland, & is a bite to freedom that it will soon be exposed. I always thought that a very little would have been enough; & more prohibition to use the title of bishop of

A. or B. absolutely, but with leave to designate themselves at R. C. (I believe) in order to keep up the distinction between them & our own. Even this may hardly be necessary. I wish about the whom I perambulate before that had I the hon. in general terms, & would I could hear - we have tried democratic movements enough; & they have given us a much inferior harshness to that we had of old.

Our 'Crystal Palace' has been a very successful bit of P. & M. Albert; almost every one is pleased & in good humor.
We have done better & our relations to our foreign visitors - all has gone well - there have been fewer offences offered of course. As to keeping up the building, I am against it -

I beg you will give my kind regards, to Miss John White, & the Madam de la I rejoice to hear that your elder grand daughter is thriving -

Believe me most truly yours
Henry Wilson
