No. 5. 1849

My dear friend

9
I have to congratulate you on the safe & comfortable of Madam de Lott, which I only heard a few days since. May she be more fortunate in this instance than before & may they both be preserved for you & for her. I was not present at the same accident as you were. My dear daughter has given birth to two girls - this occurred last Wednesday - I happened to have left town for a day or two & returning found all over she had a very easy time - only she was known - it was rather promising.

should be medical standard thanks not to be expected, as the delivery might have been difficult if the lady gave the full length - the children were thriving, I give no appearance of being deficient in strength; but premature births are to be anticipated. I hope of going on very well, & in good spirits.

The threat of life & death are common in our mortal state - you & your family will be very sorry to hear that poor Charlotte Clark has lost her infant or I wish. It had been ill a little time; but appeared to be quite recovered at that address, or nearly so. This was heard this; but Charlotte bears it with great resignation, & as a lady Colman has heard nothing of my India?

I sleep, these - the
the day week.

I write of from some parties, & claim a few more to be expected in as soon as all that that no political theory can be regarded character of former relations, I fear, prophetic piece is of this description. The

The main difficulty of the minority will be what Lord Russell has provided for them. In case of the election of franchise. In every thing of this kind I am firmly opposed; but something will be tried, not nearly enough to maintain the party of no yes, but much more than will be consistent with the balance of our constitution; Lord Russell's proposition is to bring in the commons, that no extreme measure could be carried. nor would I understand it. However a majority of the cabinet agreed to it. But in consequence they will find upon the whole, it will be carried against them. They are not so strongly charged that no office ever proposed to them. but this charge extends to many of the things, who have last year in power with the Duke of Devonshire - he has only

Throughout the time out of his little cabinet, kindly whenever I should be kept to be reckoned, 3 letters to please me dated 12 had had neither opening nor apology for want of office. Many would have accepted an excuse & said they looked to have the grace of being so but La Jolla is apt to disregard the etiquette of justice.

There is also, or was, a difficulty about the income tax. I should be pleased to have a smaller proportion from property than from realized property - Gladstone was against this distinction, is the best economist I know, on both the point of view so popular, that it might be hard to carry it off I suspect that Gladstone we have been interested but what among you
