The letter is in today's M.!

Bluebank
Gosport
5th April 48

My dear Sir,

My chief object in writing to you to day is to express my regret that I intruded on you the other day, with a letter that, however good in itself, might have waited a few days, had I been aware of your affliction.

I had sent a copy of the letter to the Morning Post changing mere into sure for

for concealment - I know not why it did not appear yesterday - I now wish I had sent it to the Times - there it would have had more effect.

I am sorry that you do not think my article "bien veillant" towards France - I assume it was kindly meant because I feel & have always felt most kindly towards France - not, I confess, to the France of Robespierre or

or Buonaparte cases - but
of les honnêtes
have been,
believe to
the nation
tho they have & terrified
visions of Pray turn
the Lewis, down, & see
My ed
facts after

or Buonaparte or the Barricades - but to the France of les honnêtes gens, who have been, I conscientiously believe the majority of the nation from 1789 - to 1848 tho' they have been overborne & terrified by various successions of despotism.
Pray turn to page 587 - of the Review, about half way down, & see what I say of the nation at large.

My editor added two facts after the article was

out of my hands. I think one I fear erroneous; he or makes me say that I say, damn or vice was M. Thiers brother in law & that Louis Philippe escaped through the subterraneous passage out of the Chateau both of which I doubt.

If the article be translated pray let me have a copy. I am surprised that your attention was not called to Lamartine's book It proves the conspiracy & that he has been a party to it.
Ever sincerely yours
Whisker
