M

West Holmsey

Surrey

7 May 1848.

My dear Sir,

I think the time
is now come when
you may be inclined
to do me the honour
of a visit of a day or two
in our little cottage.

I say tell me when it would suit you. My carriage shall meet you at the Esher (Claremont)
Station

Station any day & any hour - you may know.
If you should have
occasion to visit Chassanoub, you could do it in my carriage
very easily, & so you might at once do a
duty there & do me a pleasure.

I am grown quite young again, and find in the newspapers the same very same things

things that
years ago -
how under
scenes now
one identical
that I read
one & too
Toblaany
with one d
the old aff
augrand
all this new
an air of
so badly he

any
names.
have
it
could
say
you
a
me a
the young
in the
generally
things

things that I read near sixty years ago - There is nothing new under the Sun, & the scenes now acting in Paris are identical with those that I read of in Prudhomme I see & look at in the Tableaux Historiques -
with one difference - all the old affair was done august seriously &
all this new business has an air of comedy, as if no body believed in it:
and

and my belief is that there is not a man in France who takes the new Republic even as a fait accompli or even à accomplir, & I wonder that, as Cicero said of the Roman Augustus, Lamarine can look in Le Due Collier's face without laughing. If they go on seriously aping Robespierre they will end like him, & then we may say, as the caricature did of Buonaparte after Moscow,
- Je vous reconnois à vos revers Adieu - tout à Vous.
