Here we are, dear Monsieur Guizot. After a somewhat circuitous wandering, to avoid (alas!) the charging & glorious sea, we arrived here on ~~Thursday~~ ^{Friday}, & immediately got ourselves housed.

The (Lientine) means my sister & I. My husband will, I hope, follow in about a week, & he & I propose to come to you about the end of this month if that suits you.

My sister will very likely go to Paris. In the meantime, if any thing should Bring my remembrance of the dear Val Richer colony to Ironville. ~~They~~ we are to be formed Rue du Chancelier at the house of a certain Mad^{me} Croix-Seraphin (a sublime name).

My sister's desire to pay her respects to you comes in aid of my impatience to embrace the dear children, & if you please we will come some day & spend a few hours. Do not ask us to dinner, it is the obligation for me, as that would make me return too late. But let us see you & Val Richer & leave you before your dinner.

If I am hungry I will make an appeal to Andrie Bon Souvenir.

I cannot believe yet that I am in Rome & so near you. It is a great Hes-sing - the latter, I mean.
As for Rome, I am not sure that I did not like her better before ^{as I felt} she was such very dear friend.
But we for our part have nothing to do with these excesses of fondness.

I embrace my dear girls

& ~~those~~ all that belong to them. The thought of seeing you all gives me an emotion for which I cannot find an exact name - glad as it is, it is also solemn.

Yours dear Sir & Friend with perfect affection & reverence

S. Austin
