But you know we all want to claim a sort of pre-eminence in ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~world~~ ^{the} ~~world~~ ^{the} want to explain, "Behold I see if thou be any sorrow like unto my sorrow." And so I should tell you that you were not alone - that you had a mother & children - not that they could fill the place in your love - but that they necessarily attracted your attention & occupied your time & thoughts. My dear child does indeed occupy mine, but how - rapturously & I look forward to nothing but a separation for the whole winter - a separation which a little aggravation of her malady or of mine would render eternal. She is much better - but all physicians agree that she must not winter here - probably in Madeira.

As for myself, I was well as I went through quite as severe a struggle for life as that of '52 - indeed more terrible though shorter. Twice they thought the poor heart had made its last effort. But it pleased God to leave me still here & I have returned (tho' feebly) my sacred work. The more precarious my life is the more eager I am to complete it.

or at least the most important part of it. Have had a most kind & sympathizing letter from Mr. Haussouville.
I had written my answer when I saw in his no other date than 'Progrès'. I am not sure if that is enough, nor am I certain of the Dep.
May I then trouble you to forward it?

This is not a letter. It is only a message of thanks & of cordial & constant affection to you & yours from your faithfully attached J. Auer
