Highbridge
Sunday 8th Jan

read in my letter for the post. Enclosed are 2 letters from you & a copy of the letter from the Committee. I have been thinking of writing to you for some time but have been so busy that I could not find time. I am now at Highbridge & am very busy with the children. I am well & hope these few lines will find you the same.
I am, dear friend, ever your affectionate friend,
John G. Thompson

last night
little journey,
a score of letters
table, & eagerly
your, dear old Mother in the night: God be in the safety of her little precious child!
I am so glad you have been so long. How thoughtful you are, just my little letter. I am like a child. I know you will be so kind to add a word to me. He will be the baby. - What a beautiful scene you have described. I have not only my dear Committee for
it. I want it all.

[illegible]

my life. He loved to love, but almost as passionately as I him, & his joy when he comes & his grief at going break and heart Dear Jack too "like hypertension" it is a sad thing but we must resign ourselves. Long has been staying a week in London He had recovered his health but not he looks the increase of his mind.

I have just taken my husband a tour in my little pony carriage & I kissing, & the alternately riding & walking. He carried a little more than a midshipman's baggage -
"a tooth brush & a false collar", & so we went from place to place in this picturesque country of Surrey.

& the two adjoining
suburbs & plain below.
We saw the spring in all its glory & sweetest visits some interesting spots & were as happy as two children. He is surprisingly the better for it. I am not a little thankful that we are all better & very much enjoying life, he can be contented happy
at so moderate a cost.
His eye for nature is at all accurate & practical & he seems to want nothing beyond. We are expecting some dear heart-sticking news from Genoa. I doubt if my Brother will have the courage to call on you; & yet how he has done for your kindness
& sympathy. The servant
