Charles West minister Abbey - Dec 15.
1858
My dear Mrs. Guizot.

Last year, not far from this time, you were so kind as to write to me in language of consolation in the day of sadness - I regret that I have not acknowledged long before this but expressed of your friendly remembrance - I am almost rejoiced at my own remembrance, as I say now ~~that~~ <sup>rather</sup> the not less valuable or valued, but more agreeable, and I trust not unavailing offering of my sincere congratulations at the happy event about to take place in your family. It is a historical alliance; the names of Quincy and De Witt seem to meet together as of already kindred. The intention of such course is a great hint, to show all course of sound, external, constitutional liberty, cannot but look with great interest; even if it be not (as I trust it is) the will of Providence to perpetuate two such races, now blended in one, I trust that there is in the fact for the full domestic happiness, and after all, say he almost better than the previous greetings of public life. Though his labors ought not to be sent to you -

We hoped our business in Switzerland, where the noble scenery, pure air, and distraction from all usual occupations gave both to her and myself, a strong impulse renewed health and spirits - our return - the change of my to the scenery of St. Pauls already attended in some degree way of life, and will before long as from this house, he ally employment. endeavored to us by and raised associations. he means in which the Profr was bestowed; the comparative which I obtain, by being reflect from Perseus duty (at my to life a welcome and I think caused relief; the something like in being the head of the Protestant Cathedral and he of art, is it is in its ex ones of Guizot and De Villiers together as if already outcome of such course is to show all course of constitutional liberty with great interest.

not (as I trust it is) Proudhon to perpetuate
now blended in me, there is in there for all domestic happiness.
all may be almost the present greatness though this is not to be said to you - and our business in the little money, free charity for as much occupational peace. When to last Sunday and myself, a strong impulse of renewed health and spirits. Since but return - the change of my position to the Secretary of St Pauls has already altered in some degree my way of life, and will before long move us from this house, the city and the lengthened. endeared to us by its long old and sacred associations. But the manner in which the Department was bestowed, the comparative ease where I obtain, by being released from Persecution duty (at my time of life a welcome and I think finally earned relief; the something like justice in being the head of the North Protestant Cathedral as he would, if not, is it is in its expression, be well suited by a Chamberlain, and can provide for the education of his son of about 20 years.

We have with much pleasure from our mutual friends the Collins but your daughter and her husband propose to visit England on their wedding tour - I trust that we shall have the pleasure of seeing them, and of making arrangements with them, as you are not scrupled to confide your beloved daughter to his company for life, must be quite happy.
