My dear Sir,
On my return from the East a few weeks ago I found on my table your two volumes on Richard Cromwell & the Restoration Familiar as your work on Monk had already made me with that history of our history, & with your views on it, still these volumes, from their greater length.

detail & from the new sources of information which you have discovered, were almost new to me.
I have read them thro' with great delight and instruction - indeed they are almost the only books that I have had time to read since my return - a long absence from one's country is paid for by an accumulation of business on one's return.

I have lately had the honour of making the acquaintance of one of your friends, the fame d'Assolant - I have been delighted with his talents & knowledge, & his charming simplicity of character.

Louis Philippe seems to have been more successful in educating his children than any modern sovereign.

Perhaps his experience in Switzerland has helped him.

Mr. Austin has just been staying some days with us. He is fleet, but in good health. Mr Austin well. But, I fear reading merely for amusement.

We shall be leaving for Paris, on our road to the Italian border rather later this year, I hope. Shall not meet you again.
With our kindest regards to you & your family, we are Believe me, your devoted friend
Wm. G. L.
